

OPERATIVE PROFILES

Operative Profiles were our way of putting the spotlight on players who contributed positively to our game and online community. Highlighting them on the MxO website was our way of offering thanks for all that they did.

The Operative Profile features consisted of a host of interview questions (answered by the player), accompanied by a picture of their player avatar and/or an optional real-world headshot picture of the player.

The screenshot shows the website interface for 'The Matrix Online'. At the top, there are navigation links for 'station.com', 'SIGN IN / CHANGE USER', 'JOIN FREE', 'WHY JOIN?', 'Search Knowledge Base', and 'SOE SONY ONLINE ENTERTAINMENT'. Below the navigation is a header for 'THE MATRIX ONLINE' with a background image of two characters. A left sidebar contains a menu with categories like HOME, NEWS, UPDATES, LIVE EVENTS, FORUMS, LINKS, MEDIA, and SUPPORT. The main content area is titled 'Operative Profile - Jedi44 - 05/26/2009' and features a player avatar, a real-world headshot, and a Matrix-style code background. The profile text includes: 'Real Life First Name: Katherine', 'Forum Handle: Jedi44', 'Main Character Handle: Jedi44', 'Main Character Bluepill Name: Katera Caprice', 'Server: Vector', 'Organization: EPN', 'Where in the real life world do you live? Philadelphia, PA, USA', 'How long have you played The Matrix Online? Ive played about three years.', and 'What other MMOs have you played? This was my first MMO and only MMO.'

How long have you played THE MATRIX ONLINE?

March 6, 2005 was the first day that I jacked in. I remember that date specifically because I got the pre-order for my birthday (which also came with an invitation to the Beta), and I immediately jacked into World 1. I was here for some of Beta, the end of Beta, and have been stuck here ever since.
